Q18 Your submission

Long Text We felt that there was delayed lack of warning about the impending flood which we thought should have been anticipated given the rain levels in the catchment areas. Whilst we did receive the mobile alert on the morning of the 2022 flood it was only a few hours before the area was impacted. When the last major flood occurred in 1993 we were given warning the day before by way of doorknocking. This allowed us to make preparations by removing various items to higher ground. With the improvement in technology and monitoring since then we felt that the large volume of water heading along the Maribymong should have been flagged much earlier.
